Guidelines for Establishing Study Groups

1. Select group members who have academic interests and dedication to being successful.

2. Have group members with similar abilities and motivation.

3. Limit the group size to five or fewer students.

4. Identify the purpose and lifetime of the group.

5. If possible, schedule regular group meetings at the same place and time.