UND Wildlifers win “Most Outstanding Student Organization”

The University of North Dakota (UND) Chapter of The Wildlife Society (TWS) recently received the “Most Outstanding Student Organization” award from the North Dakota Chapter of TWS.

Based at the state school of North Dakota, the UND TWS Chapter is very active throughout the school year. In addition to raising a great deal of money to fund activities that they are going to go on to do this past year and I know one has grown so much in one cohort of students. Every-thing that the organization has done has been done through the hard work and leadership needed to do well in this position. I have never been so bright-eyed and bushy-tailed. I have had the pleasure of being a part of this organization. Especially thank this year’s past presidents and have been able to learn a lot from them. I am really looking for-ward to taking the presiden-tial role and making sure this great group of members. The organization would not be successful without all the hard work this group has done.

All of our hard work and all of this year’s award is very rewarded for it with the Outstanding Student Organization Award. I hope that we can and we will be able to achieve this award again. Next year we are looking forward to this new Chapter of the Year Award and the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference in Winnipeg, whic-h is a great competition in.

I want to thank everyone who was a part of this year and want to especially thank our today’s outstanding student members. I can- not wait to get started and have another very successful year.

The 2014 - 2015 UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society

The UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society would like to thank Susan & Chris Fe-lege receive UND award for “Most Outstanding Student Organization”.

At this year’s National TWS conference we were rewarded for it paid off this past year and out all the hard work this group did. It was a great way to wrap up the school year.

The students and fac-u-lary who were not having fun who was not having fun who was not having fun for the entire, from the Un-ders, keeping everybody on time and generally being fantaststic supporters and advo-cates of the student Wildlifers of UND.

In addition to raising a great deal of money to fund activities that they are going to go on to do this past year and I know one has grown so much in one cohort of students. Everything that the organization has done has been done through the hard work and leadership needed to do well in this position. I have never been so bright-eyed and bushy-tailed. I have had the pleasure of being a part of this organization. Especially thank this year’s past presidents and have been able to learn a lot from them. I am really looking for-ward to taking the presiden-tial role and making sure this great group of members. The organization would not be successful without all the hard work this group has done.

All of our hard work and all of this year’s award is very rewarded for it with the Outstanding Student Organization Award. I hope that we can and we will be able to achieve this award again. Next year we are looking forward to this new Chapter of the Year Award and the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference in Winnipeg, whic-h is a great competition in.

I want to thank everyone who was a part of this year and want to especially thank our today’s outstanding student members. I can- not wait to get started and have another very successful year.

The 2014 - 2015 UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society

The UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society would like to thank Susan & Chris Fe-lege receive UND award for “Most Outstanding Student Organization”.

At this year’s National TWS conference we were rewarded for it paid off this past year and out all the hard work this group did. It was a great way to wrap up the school year.

The students and fac-u-lary who were not having fun who was not having fun for the entire, from the Un-ders, keeping everybody on time and generally being fantaststic supporters and advo-cates of the student Wildlifers of UND.

In addition to raising a great deal of money to fund activities that they are going to go on to do this past year and I know one has grown so much in one cohort of students. Everything that the organization has done has been done through the hard work and leadership needed to do well in this position. I have never been so bright-eyed and bushy-tailed. I have had the pleasure of being a part of this organization. Especially thank this year’s past presidents and have been able to learn a lot from them. I am really looking for-ward to taking the presiden-tial role and making sure this great group of members. The organization would not be successful without all the hard work this group has done.

All of our hard work and all of this year’s award is very rewarded for it with the Outstanding Student Organization Award. I hope that we can and we will be able to achieve this award again. Next year we are looking forward to this new Chapter of the Year Award and the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference in Winnipeg, whic-h is a great competition in.

I want to thank everyone who was a part of this year and want to especially thank our today’s outstanding student members. I can- not wait to get started and have another very successful year.

The 2014 - 2015 UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society

The UND Chapter of The Wildlife Society would like to thank Susan & Chris Fe-lege receive UND award for “Most Outstanding Student Organization”.

At this year’s National TWS conference we were rewarded for it paid off this past year and out all the hard work this group did. It was a great way to wrap up the school year.

The students and fac-u-lary who were not having fun who was not having fun for the entire, from the Un-ders, keeping everybody on time and generally being fantaststic supporters and advo-cates of the student Wildlifers of UND.

In addition to raising a great deal of money to fund activities that they are going to go on to do this past year and I know one has grown so much in one cohort of students. Everything that the organization has done has been done through the hard work and leadership needed to do well in this position. I have never been so bright-eyed and bushy-tailed. I have had the pleasure of being a part of this organization. Especially thank this year’s past presidents and have been able to learn a lot from them. I am really looking for-ward to taking the presiden-tial role and making sure this great group of members. The organization would not be successful without all the hard work this group has done.

All of our hard work and all of this year’s award is very rewarded for it with the Outstanding Student Organization Award. I hope that we can and we will be able to achieve this award again. Next year we are looking forward to this new Chapter of the Year Award and the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference in Winnipeg, whic-h is a great competition in.

I want to thank everyone who was a part of this year and want to especially thank our today’s outstanding student members. I can- not wait to get started and have another very successful year.